Hicklin Lake Floating Islands Water Quality Improvement Project

In addition to the ongoing work of finding and eliminating illegal and inadvertent sewer connections that discharge pollutants into the stormwater system that flows into Hicklin Lake, King County is experimenting with technology that uses floating "islands" of native vegetation to capture excess nutrients in the water. WLRD installed two floating islands totaling 1200 square feet in Hicklin Lake in July 2013 and is measuring their effectiveness in nutrient removal as the vegetation matures. This effort builds on some six capital projects built in the last 10 years to reduce flooding and improve water quality in Hicklin Lake.

- Construction occurred in summer 2013; grantfunding ends in June 2015, but success monitoring will continue past 2015 as the vegetation planted on the islands matures.

Metro Transit

Service Guidelines Task Force

In 2010, King County formed a Regional Transit Task Force which recommended that Metro create objective, data-based guidelines for planning and managing transit service. Metro responded to this recommendation, and the King County Council adopted Metro's strategic plan and service guidelines in July 2011.

Now, after several years' use of the service guidelines in transit planning, the King County Council has asked Metro to form a new task force to further analyze how transit service is evaluated and allocated. Specifically, the Council asked the task force to review and make recommendations regarding:

1. How transit service performance is measured to reflect the varied purposes of different types of transit service
2. Approaches to evaluating how the goal of geographic value is included in the guidelines, including minimum service standards.
3. Approaches to evaluating how the goal of social equity is included in the guidelines.
4. Financial policies for purchase of additional services within a municipality or among multiple municipalities.
5. Guidelines for alternative services implementation.

The Service Guidelines Task Force, comprised of 33 executive level participants, will do this work in the first part of 2015 so that it can influence development of both Metro's long-range plan, scheduled to be complete by mid-2016, and its service guidelines update, scheduled to be complete by April 2016.

Chris O'claire - 206.477-5801 • christina.oclaire@kingcounty.gov

Metro Long Range Plan

With King County growing fast, it's time to lay the foundation for a public transportation system that moves more people and moves them better. What should our transit system look like in 25 years? How can we support our economy, our environment, and the people who live here? How will Metro integrate with the expanding light rail system? These are the kind of questions that captured the imagination of civic leaders years ago, and their vision led to the public transportation system we rely on today. Now it's time to imagine a new future.

Metro's long range plan will present a shared vision for a future public transportation system that gets people where they want to go and helps our region thrive.

Department of Transportation Cont'd.

The plan will describe an integrated network of transportation options, the facilities and technology needed to support those services, and the financial requirements for building the system. It will be developed in close coordination with Sound Transit and other transportation agencies.

Over the next two years, Metro will work with transit riders, cities, community groups, and motorists to shape a long-range plan for meeting our region's growing and changing public transportation needs.

King County Sheriff's Office

The King County Sheriff's Office consists of over 1,000 commissioned and professional staff employees who provide services to unincorporated King County. These services include reactive 9-1-1 patrol, search & rescue, undercover drug and gang enforcement, property crime investigations, homicide, assault, robbery and sexual assault investigations, as well as a variety of other services including concealed weapons licensing, fingerprinting, etc.

Under Sheriff Urquhart's leadership, the Sheriff's Office transitioned to a Precinct Model for deploying deputies beginning in 2013. This returned formal roll calls and gave sergeants the opportunity to work with their deputies on crime trends, protocol, procedure, and values.

Deputies are now assigned to fairly consistent patrol areas. This allows them to become familiar with citizens, businesses, and residential areas in their assigned patrol districts. They are expected to build relationships and learn the particular problems in an area or neighborhood, as well as focus on crime trends.

Metro Long-Range Plan

With King County growing fast, it's time to lay the foundation for a public transportation system that moves more people and moves them better. What should our transit system look like in 25 years? How can we support our economy, our environment, and the people who live here? How will Metro integrate with the expanding light rail system? These are the kind of questions that captured the imagination of civic leaders years ago, and their vision led to the public transportation system we rely on today. Now it's time to imagine a new future.

Metro's Long-Range Plan will present a shared vision for a future public transportation system that gets people where they want to go and helps our region thrive. The plan will describe an integrated network of transportation options, the facilities and technology needed to support those services, and the financial requirements for building the system. It will be developed in close coordination with Sound Transit and other transportation agencies.

Metro is working with transit riders, cities, community stakeholders and the public to shape a Long-Range Plan by mid-2016 that meets our region's growing and changing public transportation needs. More information about the plan and how to be involved is available online at kcmetrovision.org

In 2010, King County formed a Regional Transit Task Force which recommended that Metro create objective, data-based guidelines for planning and managing transit service. Metro responded to this recommendation, and the King County Council adopted Metro's strategic plan and service guidelines in July 2011.

Now, after several years' use of the service guidelines in transit planning, the King County Council has asked Metro to form a new task force to further analyze how transit service is evaluated and allocated. Specifically, the Council asked the task force to review and make recommendations regarding:

1. How transit service performance is measured to reflect the varied purposes of different types of transit service.
2. Approaches to evaluating how the goal of geographic value is included in the guidelines, including minimum service standards.
3. Approaches to evaluating how the goal of social equity is included in the guidelines.
4. Financial policies for purchase of additional services within a municipality or among multiple municipalities.
5. Guidelines for alternative services implementation.

The Service Guidelines Task Force, comprised of 33 executive level participants, will do this work in the first part of 2015 so that it can influence development of both Metro's long-range plan, scheduled to be complete by mid-2016, and its service guidelines update, scheduled to be complete by April 2016.
